Advantage Medical Professionals ("Company"), is firmly committed to ensuring a safe, healthy, productive and efficient work environment for our employees, as well as our customers and to the public in general. The Company has a vital interest in preventing accidents and injuries resulting from the misuse of alcohol or drugs. The unlawful or improper presence or use of drugs or alcohol in the workplace presents a danger to everyone. For these reasons, the Company has established the following drug screening and substance abuse policy for employees. Compliance with the policy is required as a condition of continued employment with the Company.

POLICY STATEMENT

This policy applies to applicants for all clinical positions, including any applicant for any such position who was formerly employed by the Company, as well as all clinical employees, including employees in managerial or supervisory positions.

The Company maintains a policy of non-discrimination and will endeavor to make reasonable accommodations to assist recovering addicts or alcoholics and those having a medical history reflecting treatment for substance abuse conditions. We encourage employees to seek assistance before their drug and alcohol use renders them unable to perform their essential job functions or jeopardizes the health and safety of themselves or others.

Questions regarding the meaning or application of this policy should be directed to the Company's Human Resources Department.

This policy is not a contract of employment. If an applicant fails to comply with this policy, the applicant will be ineligible for employment. All Company employees are employed at-will, except as state or local law may limit such status, and employment can be terminated either by the employee or the Company at any time with or without cause and with or without notice.

PROCEDURE FOR PRE-EMPLOYMENT DRUG TESTING OF APPLICANTS

All applicants to whom the Company has given a conditional offer of employment are required to submit to a pre-employment drug test and must receive a negative result as a condition of employment, except as may otherwise be required by law

PROHIBITED CONDUCT CONCERNING ALCOHOL AND DRUGS

The following conduct by employees is prohibited:

1. Reporting for work or remaining on duty after the employee has consumed alcohol in any amount that adversely affects the employee's job performance.
2. Consuming alcohol at any time during an employee's workday. This includes, but is not limited to, while an employee is on or off the premises of the Company, as well as during the employee's meal and other break periods.
 - a. Exception: This prohibition does not include the authorized and reasonable consumption of alcohol by an employee of legal drinking age at functions or activities sponsored by the Company or a client. However, responsible, professional, business-like behavior is expected of employees (including management) at all times. Inappropriate, unprofessional behavior associated with alcohol consumption may subject employees (including management) to disciplinary action, up to and including termination.
3. Engaging in any illegal or unauthorized use of drugs at any time while on or off-duty. This includes, but is not limited to, while an employee is on or off the premises of the Company, as well as during the employee's meal and other break periods.
 - a. This prohibition does not apply to prescription or over-the-counter medications taken by employees in safety-sensitive positions which:
 - i. have been lawfully prescribed to, or obtained by, the employee;
 - ii. are being used by the employee in accordance with the prescription's guidelines (if applicable); and
 - iii. before reporting to work under the influence of such medication, the employee has inquired whether the drug manufacturer or the employee's physician warns against driving, operating machinery or performing other work-related safety-sensitive tasks. If such warnings exist, the employee taking the medication must inform his or her supervisor of such restrictions before reporting to work under the influence of such substances. When informing his or her supervisor(s) or the Human Resources Department of such restrictions, the employee should not identify the medication(s) being used or the reason for its use. The Company will evaluate and respond to this information on a case-by-case basis. Responses may include, among other things, temporary job reassignment or modifications, a request for additional medical documentation and consultation, and/or an instruction that the employee not work until the restriction is removed. Any employee reporting to work in a safety-sensitive position without first advising the Company about warnings accompanying lawfully prescribed or obtained medications will be subject to disciplinary action up to and including possible termination of employment. An employee's lack of knowledge concerning such warnings will not excuse a violation of this rule where an employee has failed to make the inquiries required by this rule.
 - b. "Safety-sensitive positions" are generally defined as those positions in which impairment caused by drug or alcohol use would threaten the health or safety of any person. All clinical positions are considered to be "safety-sensitive."

4. Using or possessing “recreational marijuana” or “medical marijuana” in the workplace. All employees are prohibited from being under the influence of marijuana while at work. Employees who use recreational marijuana while off-duty in states where it is legal may test positive on a drug test required under this policy. Positive test results will not be excused by the “recreational” use of marijuana, except as may otherwise be required by law. Employees who use “medical marijuana” in states where it is legal must report this use to their supervisor or Human Resources, as described above, so that the Company may analyze the potential safety risk. The Company will comply with applicable state laws with regard to the use of “medical marijuana” to the extent that those laws impose any obligations on employers.
5. Failing to stay in contact with the Company or its medical review officer while awaiting the results of a drug test.
6. Engaging in the unlawful or unauthorized manufacture, distribution, dispensation, solicitation, sale, purchase, transfer or possession of drugs or alcohol while on Company-paid time, on Company premises, in Company vehicles, or while otherwise engaged in activities for or on behalf of the Company. This prohibition does not include the authorized distribution, dispensation, solicitation, sale, purchase, transfer or possession of alcohol at Company sponsored functions or activities. In addition, an employee’s illegal conduct involving drugs or alcohol during non-work times may also result in discipline, up to and INCLUDING discharge.
7. The refusal to submit to any drug or alcohol test that is required under the Company’s policy will result in the employee’s immediate termination of employment. This includes tests which employees agree to take in conjunction with rehabilitation.
8. Testing positive on any drug or alcohol test required under this policy, unless prohibited by law.

Refusal to Submit to a Test: An employee who engages in any of the following conduct will be considered to have refused to submit to a test:

refusing or failing to appear for any substance abuse test within a specified time, as determined by the Company, after being directed to do so by the Company;

failing to sign an authorization form permitting the release of the drug and/or alcohol test result to the Company;

failing to remain at the testing site until the testing process is complete;

failing to provide a urine, blood, breath or saliva specimen for testing;

failing to attempt to provide a urine, breath or saliva specimen for testing;

CONSUMPTION OF FOOD OR FOOD-PRODUCTS CONTAINING HEMP

Applicants who use recreational marijuana in states where it is legal are advised that a positive drug test result for marijuana will not be excused due to recreational use, except as may otherwise be required by law. Applicants and employees who use CBD and/or hemp products are advised that many of these products are unregulated and may contain THC, the psychoactive ingredient in marijuana, and may cause an applicant to test positive. A positive drug test result caused by CBD or hemp products will be treated as positive unless otherwise required by law.

PROHIBITION ON EMPLOYEE WORKING

No supervisor or manager who has actual knowledge that an employee has engaged in or is engaging in conduct prohibited under this policy shall permit the employee to work or continue working under such circumstances. Any employee who has been directed not to work or directed to stop working under such circumstances must immediately comply.

DRUG CONVICTIONS

Pursuant to federal law, employees must notify their supervisor or the Human Resources Department of any criminal drug statute conviction for a violation occurring within the workplace within five (5) days of such conviction. Within ten (10) days of such notification or other actual notice, the Company will advise the contracting agency of such conviction. In addition, an employee charged with or convicted of a drug-related offense shall report the occurrence to his or her supervisor before reporting for further duty. Any employee convicted of a drug-related offense during his/her term of employment, whether based on activity on or off the job, shall be considered in violation of this policy and may be subject to adverse employment action, including possible termination, in the Company's sole discretion. If the employee has been charged with a drug-related offense, the Company may suspend the employee without pay pending the outcome of the charge.

NOTIFICATION OF TEST RESULTS, CONFIDENTIALITY AND TESTING EXPENSES

Applicants and employees will be provided with a copy of their test results if they test positive or if otherwise required by law. The Company will maintain records of its substance abuse program in a secure location with controlled access. These records are confidential and will not be disclosed, except in accordance with applicable law. In Oklahoma, employees have the right to obtain copies of all information and records related to their drug and alcohol testing. In Montana, all information, interviews, reports, statements, memoranda, and test results are confidential communications that may not be disclosed to anyone except the tested employee, the designated representative of the employer, or in connection with any legal or administrative claim arising out of the employer's implementation of a testing program pursuant to Montana's drug testing law or in response to inquiries relating to a workplace accident involving death, physical injury, or property damage in excess of $1,500, when there is reason to believe that the employee may have caused or contributed to the accident. Information obtained through testing that is unrelated to the use of a controlled substance or alcohol must be held in strict confidentiality by the medical review officer and may not be released to the Company.

The Company will pay for all drug or alcohol tests required by the Company, which includes a confirmation drug test performed on an applicant's urine specimen. The Company will also pay for the cost of the employee's transportation to a collection site when the test is conducted at a place other than the employee's normal work site.

All time an employee spends providing a specimen for testing, including travel time to and from the collection site in order to comply with a test required under this policy, shall be considered as working time.

In Illinois, if the Company elects to discipline any employee on the basis that the employee is under the influence or impaired by marijuana, the Company will afford the employee a reasonable opportunity to contest the basis of the determination.

In Montana, all information, interviews, reports, statements, memoranda, and test results are confidential communications that may not be disclosed to anyone except the tested employee, the designated representative of the employer, or in connection with any legal or administrative claim arising out of the employer's implementation of a testing program pursuant to Montana's drug testing law or in response to inquiries relating to a workplace accident involving death, physical injury, or property damage in excess of $1,500, when there is reason to believe that the employee may have caused or contributed to the accident. Information obtained through testing that is unrelated to the use of a controlled substance or alcohol must be held in strict confidentiality by the medical review officer and may not be released to the Company.

DRUG TESTING PROCEDURES

The Company's drug testing procedures comply with applicable state laws. The Company's procedures ensure the integrity, confidentiality and reliability of the testing process, safeguard the validity of the test results and ensure that test results are attributed to the correct individual. The procedures also minimize the impact upon the privacy and dignity of applicants and employees undergoing such tests. Drug testing will be conducted via urine testing. The Company has established a chain of custody procedure for urine specimen collection and testing that will verify the identity of each urine specimen and test result. All drug testing in Montana will follow the procedures utilized by the U.S. Department of Transportation, 49 C.F.R. Part 40.

LABORATORIES

In general, drug tests will be administered at outside collection facilities and analyzed by laboratories which are certified by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services ("DHHS-certified laboratory"), or are otherwise required or permitted by applicable state and local law. On Occasion, when required by clients, or for reasonable suspicion testing, post-accident testing or diversion-based testing, testing may be conducted on-site at the employee's work location, if permitted by law. All drug testing in Montana will follow the procedures utilized by the U.S. Department of Transportation, 49 C.F.R. Part 40.

REQUIRED TESTS

Except as otherwise provided in this policy, employees are required to submit to testing under the circumstances described below. Except where conditions otherwise require, all tests will normally be conducted either during or immediately after the regular work period, which includes any period when an employee is working overtime. Employees will be paid for time spent being tested.

"Reasonable Suspicion" Drug and Alcohol Testing

An employee must submit to a drug test and/or an alcohol test whenever the Company has, in accordance with the applicable state law, reason to suspect the employee has or may have used drugs or alcohol in violation of the Company's policy.

Except as applicable state law may otherwise provide, the Company's "reasonable suspicion" determinations will be based on specific, current observations that can be verbalized, including but not limited to the employee's appearance, behavior, speech, or body odors. These observations may also include indications of an employee's chronic use of, or the effects of withdrawal from, drugs or alcohol.

All "reasonable suspicion" tests must be administered as soon as possible following the determination.

The Company shall transport or make arrangements for the transport of the employee to and from the collection site.

An employee who is required to submit to a "reasonable suspicion" test will be suspended after the completion of the drug or alcohol tests, pending receipt of the test results. The Company also reserves the right to evaluate the employee's conduct that triggered the drug and/or alcohol test, to determine if the conduct in and of itself warrants discipline, up to and including termination.

Post-Accident Drug and Alcohol Testing

Unless otherwise required by applicable state law, whenever an employee causes or contributes to a work-related accident (as defined below), the employee may be required to submit to a drug test and/or an alcohol test. In California, Massachusetts, and Pennsylvania, post-accident drug and alcohol testing will be limited to safety-sensitive employees, generally defined as those positions in which impairment caused by drug use would threaten the health or safety of any person.

As used in this policy, “work-related accident” means an accident:

which occurs while the employee is on the premises of the Company or at another work-site location, or is off-site while engaged in activities for or on behalf of the Company, or while the employee is operating a vehicle, including the employee’s, for or on behalf of the Company, and the accident results in one or more of the following: (i) a fatality; or (ii) bodily injury to any individual who, as a result of the accident, requires immediate medical treatment (excluding first aid) at or away from the scene of the accident; or (iii) property or vehicle damage to Company property or to the property of a customer that is reasonably anticipated to exceed $500.

In Montana, a post-accident test may be required of a covered employee where the Company has reason to believe the “employee’s act or failure to act is a direct or proximate cause of a work-related accident that has caused death or personal injury or property damage in excess of $1,500.”

All post-accident tests must be administered as soon as possible following the accident. Employees who are involved in a work-related accident must remain readily available for testing or will be considered to have refused to submit to a test. However, an employee who is involved in a work-related accident is not prohibited from leaving the scene of an accident for the period of time necessary to obtain assistance in responding to the accident or to obtain necessary emergency medical care for the employee or others who injured as a result of the accident.

Except where circumstances do not permit, the Company shall transport or make arrangements for the transport of the employee to and from the collection site.

An employee who is required to submit to a post-accident test will be suspended after the completion of the test, pending receipt of the test results. The Company also reserves the right to evaluate the employee’s conduct that triggered the test, to determine if the conduct in and of itself warrants discipline, up to and including termination.

PRE-ASSIGNMENT DRUG TESTING REQUIRED BY CUSTOMERS

The Company will conduct pre-assignment drug testing when customers require that employees be drug tested prior to assignment to the customer, and where permitted by law. In California and Pennsylvania, pre- assignment drug testing will be limited to safety-sensitive employees, generally defined as those positions in which impairment caused by drug use would threaten the health or safety of any person. In Montana, no pre- assignment drug testing will be conducted.

Employees who refuse to submit to customer-required pre-assignment drug tests, or who test positive, will not be permitted to work for the customer and will be subject to disciplinary action.

DIVERSION-BASED DRUG TESTING REQUIRED BY CUSTOMERS

The Company will conduct diversion-based drug testing when customers report that drugs have been diverted from the locations where the employee works, and where permitted by law. In California and Pennsylvania, diversion-based drug testing will be limited to safety-sensitive employees, generally defined as those positions in which impairment caused by drug use would threaten the health or safety of any person. In Montana, no diversion-based drug testing will be conducted.

Employees who refuse to submit to customer-required diversion-based drug tests, or who test positive, will not be permitted to work for the customer and will be subject to disciplinary action.

OTHER DRUG TESTING REQUIRED BY CUSTOMERS

The Company will conduct additional types of drug tests when customers require them, e.g., annual drug tests or bi-annual drug tests, where permitted by law. In California and Pennsylvania, additional drug testing will be limited to safety-sensitive employees, generally defined as those positions in which impairment caused by drug use would threaten the health or safety of any person.

Employees who refuse to submit to customer-required drug tests, or who test positive, will not be permitted to work for the customer and will be subject to disciplinary action.

CONSEQUENCES FOR POLICY VIOLATIONS

Employees who violate the Company's policy are subject to the following consequences:

REFUSAL TO SUBMIT: Employees who refuse to submit to a test when requested will be terminated from employment.

POSITIVE TEST RESULTS: Any employee who receives a verified positive drug test result or a confirmed alcohol test result of 0.04 BAC or greater will be terminated, unless prohibited by law. The Company will comply with applicable state laws with regard to the use of medical marijuana to the extent that those laws impose any obligations on employers and to the extent that safety is not compromised.

OTHER POLICY VIOLATIONS: The employee will be immediately removed from his or her job duties and will be subject to discipline, up to and including termination. In addition to the consequences imposed under this policy, an employee who unlawfully manufactures, distributes, possesses, or uses a controlled substance may be subject to criminal fines and/or imprisonment under federal, state and/or local law.

FITNESS-FOR-DUTY EVALUATION

Whenever a safety-sensitive employee is required to submit to a "reasonable suspicion" test and receives a negative test result, the Company may require the employee to submit to a fitness-for-duty evaluation. The evaluation may include a review of the employee's medical records and/or a medical examination. The purpose of the evaluation is to determine whether the employee poses a significant risk of substantial harm to the health and safety of the employee or others in the workplace, including customers and visitors. Employees will be required to provide the necessary authorizations for obtaining the medical records and conducting the examination. Depending upon the results of the evaluation, the Company will consider whether the safety or health risk can be eliminated or sufficiently reduced by a reasonable accommodation, if applicable.

POTENTIAL LOSS OF WORKERS' COMPENSATION AND/OR UNEMPLOYMENT COMPENSATION BENEFITS

An employee's violation of the Company's policy will be considered as gross and willful misconduct. In addition to the discipline and other consequences imposed under this policy, therefore, such employee misconduct may also result in the denial of unemployment compensation under applicable state law. Additionally, employees who are injured as a result of using drugs or alcohol in violation of this policy and/or the other Company safety rules also risk forfeiture of workers' compensation benefits under the applicable state law. In West Virginia, an injured employee who refuses to submit to drug and/or alcohol testing forfeits eligibility for unemployment compensation benefits, and if injured, for indemnity benefits under the Worker Compensation Laws.

DRUGS TESTED

Unless otherwise prohibited by law, the Company will test for the following drugs: amphetamines, barbiturates, benzodiazepines, cocaine, marijuana (unless prohibited by law), methadone, methaqualone, opiates, phencyclidine (PCP), propoxyphene and their metabolites. If a customer requires it, additional drugs may be tested, as permitted by applicable law. In Kansas and Montana, the Company will test only for amphetamines, cocaine, marijuana, opiates, PCP, and their metabolites. In Oklahoma, the Company will test for drugs and alcohol as defined in the Standards for Workplace Drug and Alcohol Testing Act, including controlled substances approved for testing by the State Commissioner of Health

CONFIRMATION AND REVIEW OF DRUG TEST RESULTS

All positive drug test results will be confirmed by gas chromatography and mass spectrometry ("GC/MS"). All confirmed positive drug test results will be reviewed by a medical review officer ("MRO") to determine whether there is any legitimate explanation for the positive test result. This review may include a medical interview, review of the applicant's/employee's medical history, or review of any other relevant biomedical factors and all medical records made available by the applicant.

An applicant's/employee's use of prescription and over-the-counter medications may result in a positive test result. Applicants/employees will be given the opportunity to discuss with the MRO any legitimate explanation for the positive test result. Applicants/employees may provide any information which may be considered relevant to the test, including identification of prescription or nonprescription drugs currently or recently used, or other relevant medical information.

If the MRO determines that there is a legitimate medical explanation for the confirmed positive test result, the MRO will report the test result as negative, except that medical marijuana use will be reported to the Company for further discussion with the applicant. If the MRO determines that there is no legitimate explanation for the confirmed positive test result, the result will be verified by the MRO as a confirmed positive test. If an applicant refuses or fails to make himself/herself available to speak with the MRO, the MRO may verify a test as positive without having communicated directly with the tested individual. If the MRO reports to the Company that a negative drug test was dilute, the applicant/employee will be directed to take another test immediately. If the applicant/employee refuses to take a second test, this constitutes a refusal to test. If the second test is negative dilute, the test stands as a negative.

RIGHT TO REQUEST CONFIRMATORY RE-TEST AFTER TESTING POSITIVE

Applicants and employees who test positive may request a confirmatory re-test of the original specimen, at their own expense, in a different DHHS-certified laboratory (or other laboratory required or permitted under state law) selected by the Company (unless otherwise required by law). In general, this request must be made by the applicant/employee within 72 hours of notification of the positive test result by the MRO, unless otherwise specified by law. However, in certain states, including Illinois (marijuana only) and in North Carolina, applicants/employees who test positive will be notified by the Company in writing of their test results and will be advised of the time period in which to request a confirmatory re- test. No other appeal procedure is available.

INABILITY TO PROVIDE ADEQUATE AMOUNT OF URINE

Applicants/employees must provide at least 45 milliliters of urine for a drug test. If the applicant/employee is unable to provide such a quantity of urine, then the individual will be instructed to drink a set amount of fluids and, after a set period of time, again directed to provide a complete specimen. If the applicant/employee refuses to drink the fluids as directed, or refuses to provide a new urine specimen, this will constitute a refusal to submit to a test. If an applicant/employee has not provided a sufficient specimen within a certain time period after the first unsuccessful attempt to provide the specimen, the Company will direct the applicant/employee to submit to blood testing, where permitted by law. If blood testing is not permitted by law or is not feasible, the applicant/employee will be directed to submit to a medical evaluation, as soon as possible, from a physician selected by the Company. If the physician determines that there is no legitimate medical explanation for the individual's failure to provide an adequate amount of urine, this will constitute a refusal to submit to a test.

If the physician determines that there is a legitimate medical explanation for the individual's failure to provide an adequate amount of urine, the Company, in consultation with the physician or MRO, will determine whether the applicant/employee should be retested, including whether a reasonable accommodation, if applicable, can be made which will provide an adequate, accurate and timely test result that will not impose an undue hardship on the program.

ADULTERATED OR SUBSTITUTED URINE SPECIMENS

Procedures for collecting specimens allow an individual privacy unless there is a reason to believe that a particular individual may adulterate or substitute the specimen. In such cases, a specimen may be obtained under the direct observation of a collection site person of the same gender as the applicant, unless prohibited by law.

ALCOHOL TESTING

IN GENERAL

Except as provided below, alcohol screening tests will be performed either by a screening test technician ("STT") using a non-evidential screening device which the STT is proficient to operate, or by a breath alcohol technician ("BAT") using an evidential breath testing device ("EBT") which the BAT is proficient to operate. The Company will only use non-evidential alcohol screening devices that are on the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration's ("NHTSA") Conforming Products List ("CPL") for non-evidential screening devices and EBTs which are on the NHTSA's CPL for evidential breath measurement devices.

CONFIRMATION OF ALCOHOL TEST RESULTS AND THRESHOLD FOR POSITIVE TEST RESULTS

If the result of the screening test is an alcohol concentration of 0.02 or greater, a confirmation test will be performed. The confirmation test will be conducted within 30 minutes from the end of the screening test. The confirmation test result is the final result upon which any discipline or other action taken under the Company's policy shall be based. The Company will consider .04 BAC or greater to be a positive test result.

In Nebraska, an employee who tests positive for alcohol on a breath test may immediately request confirmation by providing a blood specimen for testing.

INABILITY TO PROVIDE ADEQUATE SPECIMEN AMOUNT FOR ALCOHOL TESTING

If the employee is unable to provide sufficient saliva to complete a test on a saliva screening device, the STT shall conduct a new test, using a new device. If the employee refuses to complete the new test, this will constitute a refusal to submit to a test and the employee will be terminated. If the new test is completed, but there is an insufficient amount of saliva to activate the device, the employee shall immediately take a breath alcohol test using an EBT. If the employee refuses to submit to the test using an EBT the employee will be terminated.

Each employee shall blow forcefully into the mouthpiece of the EBT for at least six (6) seconds or until the EBT indicates that an adequate amount of breath has been obtained. If an employee fails to provide or claims that he or she is unable to provide a sufficient amount of breath to permit a valid breath test, the Company will direct the employee to submit to blood testing. If blood testing is not feasible, then the Company will direct the employee to obtain, within five days, an evaluation from a licensed physician who is acceptable to the Company and who has expertise in the medical issues raised by the employee's failure to provide a sufficient specimen. Failure to undergo such an evaluation constitutes a refusal to test. If the physician concludes that a medical condition has, or with a high degree of probability could have, precluded the employee from providing a sufficient amount of breath, the employee's test will be canceled. If the physician concludes that there is not an adequate basis for determining that a medical condition has, or with a high degree of probability could have, precluded the employee from providing a sufficient amount of breath, the employee will be considered to have refused to test.

ALCOHOL TESTING IN HAWAII, LOUISIANA AND OREGON

When alcohol testing is required in Hawaii, Louisiana and Oregon, the Company will direct the employee to submit to a blood test. In Oregon, blood testing will be directed only when the test is not a reasonable suspicion test, or the employee does not consent to breath testing. Blood tests will be analyzed at a certified laboratory and positive test results will be subject to confirmatory testing conducted by gas chromatography and mass spectrometry ("GC/MS") as well as MRO review.

An employee who receives a verified positive blood alcohol test result may request a confirmatory "re-test" of the original blood specimen at a different DHHS-certified laboratory (or other laboratory required or permitted under state law) selected by the Company. This request must be made by the employee within 72 hours of being notified by the MRO of a verified positive test result (unless otherwise required or permitted under state law).

SELF-IDENTIFICATION OF SUBSTANCE ABUSE PROBLEM

Consistent with and subject to the Company's policies concerning the Family and Medical Leave Act, and personal leaves and vacations, employees who voluntarily self-identify themselves as having a drug or alcohol problem and who voluntarily request assistance for such problem will be referred to a substance abuse professional for an evaluation and for an appropriate counseling, treatment or rehabilitation program, if recommended. The cost of the evaluation and any counseling, treatment or rehabilitation is the employee's responsibility. (For further details concerning the employee's payment obligations, employees should refer to their individual medical insurance plan.)

This request must be made before the employee is required to submit to a drug or alcohol test required by this policy. Employees may not use this self-identification provision to avoid taking a test when required under this policy or to avoid being disciplined for receiving a positive test result or for refusing to submit to a test.

Once leave commences, periodic certification that the employee is actively continuing to participate in the program, together with progress reports, shall also be required. As a further condition of taking such leave, the employee will be required to authorize the attending substance abuse professional to communicate directly with the Company, including to release the employee's relevant treatment records to the Company, except as federal or state law may otherwise require. All such oral and written communications between the substance abuse professional and the Company shall be treated as confidential.

Except where the federal or state law prohibits, all leave time taken for the evaluation, counseling, treatment or rehabilitation will be counted against the leave to which the employee may be entitled under the federal or state Family and Medical Leave laws, or other applicable leave policy, if any.

In accordance with the applicable "Agreement For Voluntary Treatment and Conditions for Continued Employment" executed by the employee prior to the commencement of such leave, the employee may be required to submit to a return-to-duty drug test as a condition of returning to work and receive a negative result. In some cases an employee may be required to submit to a return- to-duty alcohol test as a condition of returning to duty, and if tested, must receive a negative test result. The employee may also be required to submit to unannounced follow-up drug tests and/or unannounced follow-up alcohol tests as part of the program.

To assure employees who are reassigned/floated as necessary are re-assigned to areas that fall within their scope of practice.

Policy Statement

The agency has a firm policy and procedure for handling staff reassignment by clients only to their areas within their scope of practice or documented area of expertise. A policy defining appropriate assignment areas for agency employees assists in guarding against placement of staff outside their area of training or expertise. This reduces risk of liability.

Procedure/Guideline

The policy on floating and re-assignment should have what the agency considers acceptable and safe "floatable areas" for their staff.

Contracts will identify and define re-assignment parameters, including areas for appropriate re-assignment given the credentials of the staff to be re-assigned.

Any employee who is asked to float should notify the agency immediately if it is out of their area of expertise. This should be done before you accept any assignment.

The agency will contact the client and discuss the situation and help to resolve the issue.

Refusing to float in an area that is in your scope of practice will not be tolerated.

Purpose: Advantage Medical Professionals will provide Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA) leave to its eligible employees. The company posts the mandatory FMLA Notice and upon hire provides all new employees with notices required by the U.S. Department of Labor (DOL) on Employee Rights and Responsibilities under the Family and Medical Leave Act.

The function of this policy is to provide employees with a general description of their FMLA rights. In the event of any conflict between this policy and the applicable law, employees will be afforded all rights required by law.

If you have any questions, concerns, or disputes with this policy, you must contact the Human Resources Director in writing.

Policy Statement: Under this policy, Advantage Medical Professionals will grant up to 12 weeks of leave during a 12-month period to eligible employees (or up to 26 weeks of military caregiver leave to care for a covered servicemember with a serious injury or illness). The leave may be paid, unpaid or a combination of paid and unpaid leave, depending on the circumstances of the leave and as specified in this policy.

Procedure/Guideline:

Eligibility

To qualify to take family or medical leave under this policy, the employee must meet all of the following conditions:

- 1) The employee must have worked for the company for 12 months or 52 weeks. The 12 months or 52 weeks need not have been consecutive. Separate periods of employment will be counted, provided that the break in service does not exceed seven years. Separate periods of employment will be counted if the break in service exceeds seven years due to National Guard or Reserve military service obligations or when there is a written agreement, including a collective bargaining agreement, stating the employer's intention to rehire the employee after the service break. For eligibility purposes, an employee will be considered to have been employed for an entire week even if the employee was on the payroll for only part of a week or if the employee is on leave during the week.
- 2) The employee must have worked at least 1,250 hours during the 12-month period immediately preceding the commencement of the leave. The 1,250 hours do not include time spent on paid or unpaid leave. Consequently, these hours of leave should not be counted in determining the 1,250 hours eligibility test for an employee under FMLA.
- 3) The employee must work in a worksite where 50 or more employees are employed by the company within 75 miles of that office or worksite. The distance is to be calculated by using available transportation by the most direct route.

Type of Leave Covered

To qualify as FMLA leave under this policy, the leave must be for one of the reasons listed below:

- 1) The birth of a child and in order to care for that child.
- 2) The placement of a child for adoption or foster care and to care for the newly placed child.
- 3) To care for a spouse, child or parent with a serious health condition (described below).
- 4) The serious health condition (described below) of the employee.

An employee may take leave because of a serious health condition that makes the employee unable to perform the functions of his or her position.

Under the FMLA, a "spouse" means a husband or wife. Husband or wife refers to the other person with whom an individual entered into marriage as defined or recognized under state law for purposes of marriage in the state in which the marriage was entered into or, in the case of a marriage entered into outside of any state, if the marriage is valid in the place where entered into and could have been entered into in at least one state. This definition includes an individual in a same-sex or common law marriage that either:

- was entered into in a state that recognizes such marriages; or
- if entered into outside of any state, is valid in the place where entered into and could have been entered into in at least one state

A serious health condition is defined as a condition that requires inpatient care at a hospital, hospice or residential medical care facility, including any period of incapacity or any subsequent treatment in connection with such inpatient care or a condition that requires continuing care by a licensed health care provider.

This policy covers illnesses of a serious and long-term nature, resulting in recurring or lengthy absences.

Generally, a chronic or long-term health condition that would result in a period of three consecutive days of incapacity with the first visit to the health care provider within seven days of the onset of the incapacity and a second visit within 30 days of the incapacity would be considered a serious health condition. For chronic conditions requiring periodic health care visits for treatment, such visits must take place at least twice a year. Employees with questions about what illnesses are covered under this FMLA policy or under the company's sick leave policy are encouraged to consult with the Human Resources Director.

If an employee takes paid sick leave for a condition that progresses into a serious health condition and the employee requests unpaid leave as provided under this policy, the company may designate all or some portion of related leave taken as leave under this policy, to the extent that the earlier leave meets the necessary qualifications.

5) Qualifying exigencies leave for families of members of the National Guard or Reserve or of a regular component of the Armed Forces when the covered military member is on covered active duty or called to covered active duty. An employee whose spouse, son, daughter, or parent either has been notified of an impending call or order to covered active military duty or who is already on covered active duty may take up to 12 weeks of leave for reasons related to or affected by the family member's call-up or service. The qualifying exigency must be one of the following:

- a. short-notice deployment
- b. military events and activities
- c. childcare and school activities
- d. financial and legal arrangements
- e. counseling
- f. rest and recuperation
- g. post-deployment activities
- h. additional activities that arise out of active duty, provided that the employer and employee agree, including agreement on timing and duration of the leave.

Eligible employees are entitled to FMLA leave to care for a current member of the Armed Forces, including a member of the National Guard or Reserve, or a member of the Armed Forces, the National Guard or Reserve who is on the temporary disability retired list, who has a serious injury or illness incurred in the line of duty on active duty for which he or she is undergoing medical treatment, recuperation, or therapy; or otherwise in outpatient status; or otherwise on the temporary disability retired list. Eligible employees may not take leave under this provision to care for former members of the Armed Forces, former members of the National Guard and Reserve, or members on the regular disability retired list.

(6) To care for a covered servicemember with a serious injury or illness if the employee is the spouse, son, daughter, parent, or next of kin of the covered servicemember.

- a) A "son or daughter of a covered servicemember" means the covered servicemember's biological, adopted, or foster child, stepchild or legal ward, or a child for whom the covered servicemember stood in loco parentis, and who is of any age.
- b) A "parent of a covered servicemember" means a covered servicemember's biological, adoptive, step or foster father or mother, or any other individual who stood in loco parentis to the covered servicemember. This term does not include parents in law.
- c) The "next of kin of a covered servicemember" is the nearest blood relative, other than the covered servicemember's spouse, parent, son or daughter, in the following order of priority: blood relatives who have been granted legal custody of the servicemember by court decree or statutory provisions, brothers and sisters, grandparents, aunts and uncles, and first cousins, unless the covered servicemember has specifically designated in writing another blood relative as his or her nearest blood relative for purposes of military caregiver leave under the FMLA. When no such designation is made, and there are multiple family members with the same level of relationship to the covered servicemember, all such family members shall be considered the covered servicemember's next of kin and may take FMLA leave to provide care to the covered servicemember, either consecutively or simultaneously. When such designation has been made, the designated individual shall be deemed to be the covered servicemember's only next of kin. For example, if a covered servicemember has three siblings and has not designated a blood relative to provide care, all three siblings would be considered the covered servicemember's next of kin. Alternatively, where a covered servicemember has siblings and designates a cousin as his or her next of kin for FMLA purposes, then only the designated cousin is eligible as the covered servicemember's next of kin. An employer is permitted to require an employee to provide confirmation of covered family relationship to the covered servicemember pursuant to § 825.122(k).

“Covered active duty” means:

(a) “Covered active duty” for members of a regular component of the Armed Forces means duty during deployment of the member with the Armed Forces to a foreign country.

(b) Covered active duty or call to covered active duty status in the case of a member of the Reserve components of the Armed Forces means duty during the deployment of the member with the Armed Forces to a foreign country under a federal call or order to active duty in support of a contingency operation, in accordance with 29 CR 825.102.

The leave may commence as soon as the individual receives the call-up notice. (Son or daughter for this type of FMLA leave is defined the same as for child for other types of FMLA leave except that the person does not have to be a minor.) This type of leave would be counted toward the employee’s 12-week maximum of FMLA leave in a 12-month period.

(7) Military caregiver leave (also known as covered servicemember leave) to care for an injured or ill servicemember or veteran. An employee whose son, daughter, parent or next of kin is a covered servicemember may take up to 26 weeks of leave in a single 12-month period to care for that servicemember.

Next of kin is defined as the closest blood relative of the injured or recovering servicemember.

The term “covered servicemember” means:

(a) a member of the Armed Forces (including a member of the National Guard or Reserve) who is undergoing medical treatment, recuperation, or therapy; is otherwise in outpatient status; or is otherwise on the temporary disability retired list, for a serious injury or illness; or

(b) a veteran who is undergoing medical treatment, recuperation, or therapy for a serious injury or illness and who was a member of the Armed Forces (including a member of the National Guard or Reserve) at any time during the period of 5 years preceding the date on which the veteran undergoes that medical treatment, recuperation, or therapy.

The term “serious injury or illness” means:

(a) in the case of a member of the Armed Forces (including a member of the National Guard or Reserve), means an injury or illness that was incurred by the member in line of duty on active duty in the Armed Forces (or existed before the beginning of the member’s active duty and was aggravated by service in line of duty on active duty in the Armed Forces) and that may render the member medically unfit to perform the duties of the member’s office, grade, rank or rating;

(b) in the case of a veteran who was a member of the Armed Forces (including a member of the National Guard or Reserve) at any time during a period when the person was a covered servicemember, means a qualifying (as defined by the Secretary of Labor) injury or illness incurred by a covered servicemember in the line of duty on active duty that may render the servicemember medically unfit to perform the duties of his or her office, grade, rank or rating.

(c) Outpatient status, with respect to a covered servicemember, means the status of a member of the Armed Forces assigned to either a military medical treatment facility as an outpatient; or a unit established for the purpose of providing command and control of members of the Armed Forces receiving medical care as outpatients.

Amount of Leave

An eligible employee can take up to 12 weeks for the FMLA circumstances (No. 1) through (No. 5) above under this policy during any 12-month period. The company will measure the 12-month period as a rolling 12-month period measured backward from the date an employee uses any leave under this policy. Each time an employee takes leave, the company will compute the amount of leave the employee has taken under this policy in the last 12 months and subtract it from the 12 weeks of available leave, and the balance remaining is the amount the employee is entitled to take at that time.

An eligible employee can take up to 26 weeks for the FMLA circumstance (No. 6) above (military caregiver leave) during a single 12-month period. For this military caregiver leave, the company will measure the 12-month period as a rolling 12-month period measured forward. FMLA leave already taken for other FMLA circumstances will be deducted from the total of 26 weeks available.

If a husband and wife both work for the company and each wishes to take leave for the birth of a child, adoption or placement of a child in foster care, or to care for a parent (but not a parent "in-law") with a serious health condition, the husband and wife may only take a combined total of 12 weeks of leave. If a husband and wife both work for the company and each wish to take leave to care for a covered injured or ill servicemember, the husband and wife may only take a combined total of 26 weeks of leave.

Employee Status & Benefits During Leave

While an employee is on leave, the company will continue the employee's health benefits during the leave period at the same level and under the same conditions as if the employee had continued to work.

If the employee chooses not to return to work for reasons other than a continued serious health condition of the employee or the employee's family member or a circumstance beyond the employee's control, the company will require the employee to reimburse the company the amount it paid for the employee's health insurance premium during the leave period.

Under current company policy, the employee pays a portion of the health care premium. While on paid leave, the employer will continue to make payroll deductions to collect the employee's share of the premium. While on unpaid leave, the employee must continue to make this payment, either in person or by mail. The payment must be received in the Human Resources Department by the 1st day of each month. If the payment is more than 30 days late, the employee's health care coverage may be dropped for the duration of the leave. The employer will provide 15 days' notification prior to the employee's loss of coverage.

If the employee contributes to a life insurance or disability plan, the employer will continue making payroll deductions while the employee is on paid leave. While the employee is on unpaid leave, the employee may request continuation of such benefits and pay his or her portion of the premiums, or the employer may elect to maintain such benefits during the leave and pay the employee's share of the premium payments. If the employee does not continue these payments, the employer may discontinue coverage during the leave. If the employer maintains coverage, the employer may recover the costs incurred for paying the employee's share of any premiums, whether or not the employee returns to work.

Employee Status After Leave

An employee who takes leave under this policy may be asked to provide a fitness for duty (FFD) clearance from a health care provider. This requirement will be included in the employer's response to the FMLA request. Generally, an employee who takes FMLA leave will be able to return to the same position or a position with equivalent status, pay, benefits and other employment terms. The position will be the same or one that is virtually identical in terms of pay, benefits and working conditions. The company may choose to exempt certain key employees from this requirement and not return them to the same or similar position when doing so will cause substantial and grievous economic injury to business operations. Key employees will be given written notice at the time FMLA leave is requested of his or her status as a key employee. There are also other limited exceptions to the general rule that employees will be restored to work, including layoffs, shift eliminations, fraudulently obtaining leave, and occasions when the employee is unable to perform essential job functions.

An employee who fraudulently obtains FMLA from the Company is not protected by the FMLA's job restoration or maintenance of health benefits provisions. In addition, the Company will take all available appropriate disciplinary action against such employee due to such fraud.

Use of Paid & Unpaid Leave

An employee who is taking unpaid FMLA leave has the option to use any accrued sick or vacation time. This sick/vacation time will run concurrently with the FMLA leave.

Disability leave for the birth of a child and for an employee's serious health condition, including workers' compensation leave (to the extent that it qualifies), will be designated as FMLA leave and will run concurrently with FMLA. For example, if an employer provides six weeks of pregnancy disability leave, the six weeks will be designated as FMLA leave and counted toward the employee's 12-week entitlement.

Intermittent Leave or a Reduced Work Schedule

The employee may take FMLA leave in 12 consecutive weeks, may use the leave intermittently (take a day periodically when needed over the year) or, under certain circumstances, may use the leave to reduce the workweek or workday, resulting in a reduced hour schedule. In all cases, the leave may not exceed a total of 12 workweeks (or 26 workweeks to care for an injured or ill servicemember) over a 12-month period.

The company may temporarily transfer an employee to an available alternative position with equivalent pay and benefits if the alternative position would better accommodate the intermittent or reduced schedule, in instances when leave for the employee or employee's family member is foreseeable and for planned medical treatment, including recovery from a serious health condition or to care for a child after birth or placement for adoption or foster care.

For the birth, adoption or foster care of a child, the company and the employee must mutually agree to the schedule before the employee may take the leave intermittently or work a reduced-hour schedule. Leave for birth, adoption or foster care of a child must be taken within one year of the birth or placement of the child.

If the employee is taking leave for a serious health condition or because of the serious health condition of a family member, the employee should try to reach agreement with the company before taking intermittent leave or working a reduced-hour schedule. If this is not possible, then the employee must prove that the use of the leave is medically necessary.

Certification for the Employee's Serious Health Condition

The company will require certification for the employee's serious health condition. The employee must respond to such a request within 15 days of the request or provide a reasonable explanation for the delay. Failure to provide certification may result in a denial of continuation of leave. Medical certification will be provided using the DOL Certification of Health Care Provider for Employee's Serious Health Condition.

The company may directly contact the employee's health care provider for verification or clarification purposes using a health care professional, an HR professional, leave administrator or management official. The company will not use the employee's direct supervisor for this contact. Before the company makes this direct contact with the health care provider, the employee will be given an opportunity to resolve any deficiencies in the medical certification. In compliance with HIPAA Medical Privacy Rules, the company will obtain the employee's permission for clarification of individually identifiable health information.

The company has the right to ask for a second opinion if it has reason to doubt the certification. The company will pay for the employee to get a certification from a second doctor, which the company will select. The company may deny FMLA leave to an employee who refuses to release relevant medical records to the health care provider designated to provide a second or third opinion. If necessary to resolve a conflict between the original certification and the second opinion, the company will require the opinion of a third doctor. The company and the employee will mutually select the third doctor, and the company will pay for the opinion. This third opinion will be considered final. The employee will be provisionally entitled to leave and benefits under the FMLA pending the second and/or third opinion.

The company may request recertification for the serious health condition of the employee or the employee's family member no more frequently than every 30 days unless circumstances have changed significantly, or if the employer receives information casting doubt on the reason given for the absence, or if the employee seeks an extension of his or her leave. Otherwise, the company may request recertification for the serious health condition of the employee or the employee's family member every six months in connection with an FMLA absence. Accrual and Usage

Employees begin accruing paid sick leave at the start of employment in Arizona. Paid sick leave will accrue at the rate of one (1) hour for every thirty (30) hours worked in Arizona, up to a total maximum accrual of forty (40) hours. Employees who are exempt from overtime pursuant to the executive, administrative, and professional exemptions are assumed to work forty (40) hours in each workweek unless their normal workweek is less than forty (40) hours, in which case paid sick leave accrues based upon that normal workweek. For purposes of this policy, the year is the consecutive 12-month period beginning on January 1st and ending on December 31st. For employees hired after July 1, 2017, accrued time cannot be used until after 90 days of employment.

Paid sick leave may be used in a minimum increment of one hour. Employees may use up to forty (40) hours of paid sick leave in any year. Paid sick time does not count towards the calculation of overtime.

Employees who are rehired within nine (9) months of separation will have their prior bank of unused paid sick time reinstated.

While it is not possible to list all the circumstances that may constitute other forms of workplace harassment, some examples of conduct that may constitute workplace harassment include:

- The use of disparaging or abusive words or phrases, slurs, negative stereotyping, or threatening, intimidating, or hostile acts that relate to the above-protected categories;
- Written or graphic material that insults, stereotypes, or shows aversion or hostility toward an individual or group because of one of the above-protected categories and that is placed on walls, bulletin boards, or elsewhere on our premises, in emails, or voicemails, or otherwise circulated in the workplace; and Sexual harassment means harassment based on sex or conduct of a sexual nature and includes harassment based on sex (including pregnancy, childbirth, breastfeeding, or related medical conditions), gender, gender identity, or gender expression. It may include all of the actions described above as harassment, as well as other unwelcome sex-based conduct, such as unwelcome or unsolicited sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, conversations regarding sexual activities, or other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature. Sexually harassing conduct need not be motivated by sexual desire and may include situations that began as reciprocal relationships, but that later cease to be reciprocal.

Sexual harassment is generally categorized into the following two types:

- Submission to sexual conduct when made explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of an individual's employment.
- Submission to or rejection of the conduct by an employee when used as the basis for employment decisions affecting the employee.

Protected activities may include, but are not limited to, reporting or assisting in reporting suspected violations of this policy and/or cooperating in investigations or proceedings arising out of a violation of this policy.

Adverse employment action is conduct or an action that materially affects the terms and conditions of the employee's employment status or is reasonably likely to deter the employee from engaging in protected activity. Even actions that do not result in a direct loss of compensation may be regarded as an adverse employment action when considered in the totality of the circumstances.

Examples of retaliation under this policy include, but are not limited to: demotion, suspension, reduction in pay, denial of a merit salary increase, failure to hire or consider for hire, refusing to promote or consider for promotion because of reporting a violation of this policy, harassing another employee for filing a complaint, denying employment opportunities because of making a complaint or cooperating in an investigation, changing someone's work assignments for identifying harassment or other forms of discrimination in the workplace, treating people differently such as denying an accommodation, not talking to an employee when otherwise required by job duties, or otherwise excluding the employee from job-related activities because of engagement in activities protected under this policy.

The Company prohibits retaliation against employees who, based on a reasonable belief, provide information about, complain, or assist in the investigation of any complaint of harassment or discrimination.

We will promptly and thoroughly investigate any claim and take appropriate corrective and/or remedial action where we find a claim has merit. If the Company begins an investigation, we will endeavor to conduct the investigation in a timely manner and will keep the investigation confidential to the extent possible. In the same way, anyone involved in an investigation of harassment has an obligation to keep all information about the investigation confidential. That is why the Company will only share information about a complaint of harassment with those who need to know about it. Failure to keep information about an investigation confidential may result in disciplinary action. Investigations will be documented and tracked for timely resolution.

When the investigation has been completed, the Company will normally communicate the results of the investigation to the complaining individual, to the alleged harasser, and, if appropriate, to others who are directly involved. If our policy against harassment is found to have been violated, appropriate corrective action, up to and including termination, will be taken against the harasser so that further harassment will be prevented. Both the rights of the alleged harasser and the complainant will be considered in any investigation and subsequent action.

Discipline for violation of this policy may include, but is not limited to, reprimand, suspension, demotion, transfer, and discharge. If the Company determines that harassment or discrimination occurred, corrective action will be taken to effectively end the harassment. As necessary, the Company may monitor any incident of harassment or discrimination to assure the inappropriate behavior has stopped. In all cases, the Company will follow up as necessary to ensure that no individual is retaliated against for making a complaint or cooperating with an investigation.

In addition to our internal complaint procedure, employees may also contact either the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC) or the California Civil Rights Department (CRD) to report unlawful harassment. You must file a complaint with the CRD within three years of the alleged unlawful action. The EEOC and the CRD serve as neutral factfinders and will attempt to assist the parties to voluntarily resolve their disputes. For more information, contact the Office of Human Resources or the nearest EEOC or CRD office.

Meal and Rest Periods

Advantage Medical Professionals, LLC strives to provide a safe and healthy work environment and comply with all federal and state regulations regarding meal and rest periods. Check with your Immediate Manager regarding procedures and schedules for meal and rest periods.

The Company requests that employees observe and accurately record meal periods in time and attendance records. If you know in advance that you may not be able to take an uninterrupted scheduled meal or rest period, let your Immediate Manager know; in addition, notify your Immediate Manager as soon as possible if you were unable to take or were prohibited from taking an uninterrupted scheduled meal or rest period.

Meal and rest periods are intended to provide employees with an opportunity to be away from work, and employees are not permitted to perform any work during meal and rest periods.

Meal Periods

Employees who work more than five (5) hours in a workday are provided an unpaid, off-duty meal period of at least thirty (30) minutes. If six (6) hours of work will complete the day's work, they may voluntarily waive their meal period in writing. See Human Resources to sign and submit a form that waives this right to a meal period (for working no more than six (6) hours in a day). Employees who work more than ten (10) hours in a day are entitled to a second unpaid, off-duty 30-minute meal period. The employee can waive his or her second meal period, but only if the first one was not waived in any manner. Any waiver of the second meal period must be in writing. The employee may revoke this waiver at any time by providing the Company at least one day's written notice. See Human Resources to sign and submit a form that waives this right to a second meal period, as explained above.

Employees are responsible for scheduling their own meal period, but it should begin no later than the end of the fifth hour of work. For example, an employee who begins working at 8 a.m. must begin his or her meal period no later than 1:00 p.m. Employees entitled to a second meal period should schedule it so it begins no later than the end of their tenth hour of work. When scheduling meal periods, employees should try to anticipate their workflow and deadlines. Employees are encouraged to take their meal periods; they are not expected to work during their meal periods.

During a meal period, employees are relieved of all duties and should not work during this time. When taking a meal period, employees should completely stop working for at least thirty (30) continuous minutes.

Employees are prohibited from working “off the clock” during their meal period. Those employees who use a time clock must clock out for their meal periods. Employees are expected to clock back in and promptly return to work at the end of any meal period. Employees who record their time manually must accurately record their meal periods by recording the beginning and end of each work period. Unless otherwise directed by Human Resources in writing, approval from or notification to Human Resources when taking a meal period is not required.

Rest Periods

Non-exempt employees who work at least three and one half (3½) hours per day are provided one (1) 10- minute rest break for every four hours or major fraction thereof worked. For purposes of this policy, “major fraction” means any time greater than two (2) hours. For example, if an employee works more than six hours, but no more than ten (10) hours in a workday, he or she is provided and should take two (2) 10- minute rest breaks: one during the first half of the shift and a second rest break during the second half of the shift. If an employee works more than ten (10) hours but no more than fourteen (14) hours in a day, he or she is provided and should take three (3) 10-minute rest breaks, and so on.

Employees are encouraged to take their rest breaks; they are not expected to and should not work during their rest breaks. Non-exempt employees are paid for all rest break periods. Accordingly, employees should not clock out when taking a rest break.

Rest breaks should be taken as close to the middle of each work period as is practical. Rest breaks must be ten uninterrupted, continuous minutes. In the event your rest break is interrupted, you must be provided and should take a full, continuous 10-minute rest break at the next reasonable opportunity.

Rest breaks may not be combined with one another, or with a meal period, or used to leave work early.

General Requirements for Rest Breaks and Meal Periods.

All rest breaks and meal periods must be taken outside employees’ work areas. Employees should not visit or socialize with employees who are working while taking their rest break or meal period. Employees may leave the premises during meal periods but must be able to return to their workstation on time. Employees are required to notify Human Resources immediately if they believe they are being pressured or coerced by any manager, supervisor, or other employee to forego any portion of a provided rest break or meal period.

Accrual and Usage

Employees begin accruing paid sick leave the start of employment [in California]. Paid sick leave will accrue at the rate of one (1) hour for every thirty (30) hours worked [in California], up to a total maximum accrual of six (6) days or forty-eight (48) hours, whichever is greater. Employees who are exempt from overtime pursuant to the executive, administrative, and professional exemptions under California law are assumed to work forty (40) hours in each workweek unless their normal workweek is less than forty (40) hours, in which case paid sick leave accrues based upon that normal workweek. For purposes of this policy, the year is the consecutive 12-month period beginning on January 1st and ending on December 31st.

Employees can use accrued paid sick leave beginning on the 90th day of employment. Paid sick leave may be used in a minimum increment of two (2) hours. An exempt employee may use up to five (5) days or forty (40) hours, whichever is greater, of paid sick leave in any year. A non-exempt employee may use up to three (3) days or twenty-four (24) hours, whichever is greater, of paid sick leave in any year.

Payment upon Termination

Accrued paid sick leave carries over from year to year but is subject to the accrual cap of six (6) days or forty-eight (48) hours, whichever is greater. Employees who wish to exercise this option must do so in a written request to Human Resources within seven (7) days of the end of the assignment.

Pregnancy Disability Leave

Employees who are disabled by pregnancy, childbirth or related medical conditions are eligible to take a pregnancy disability leave ("PDL"). If affected by pregnancy or a related medical condition, employees also are eligible to transfer to a less strenuous or hazardous position or to less strenuous or hazardous duties, if such a transfer is medically advisable and can be reasonably accommodated. Employees disabled by qualifying conditions may also be entitled to other reasonable accommodations where doing so is medically necessary. In addition, if it is medically advisable to take intermittent leave or work a reduced leave schedule, the Company may require a temporary transfer to an alternative position with equivalent pay and benefits that can better accommodate recurring periods of leave.

Eligibility

To be eligible for PDL, you must suffer from a pregnancy-related disability. A pregnancy-related disability is a physical or mental condition related to pregnancy or childbirth that prevents you from performing the essential duties of your job, or would cause undue risk to you or your pregnancy's successful completion.

Conditions for which PDL is available include, but are not limited to:

- Severe morning sickness.
- Prenatal or postnatal care.
- Doctor ordered bed rest.
- Gestational diabetes.
- Pregnancy-induced hypertension.
- Preeclampsia.
- Post-partum depression.
- Lactation conditions such as mastitis.
- Loss or end of pregnancy.
- Recovery from loss or end of pregnancy.

Use of Leave

PDL may be taken before or after birth during any period of time (not to exceed four months) where you are physically unable to work due to your pregnancy-related disability. You may take PDL all at once or intermittently.

Where applicable under state and federal law, employees who qualify and are entitled to take PDL may also be eligible for leave under the California Family Rights Act (CFRA) and the federal Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA). PDL and FMLA run concurrently. CFRA leave will be counted separately from PDL. CFRA leave will also be counted separately from FMLA leave taken for pregnancy disability, childbirth, or related medical conditions. An additional 12 weeks of bonding leave may also be available to qualified individuals. Speak with your Immediate Manager about your eligibility for these leaves.

An employee is entitled to up to four (4) months of PDL, per pregnancy, while disabled by pregnancy, childbirth, or a related medical condition. PDL does not need to be taken in one continuous period of time but can be taken on an intermittent basis pursuant to the law. For purposes of this policy, “four months” means time off for the number of days the employee would normally work within the four calendar months (one-third of a year, or 17.3 weeks or 122 days) following the commencement date of taking a pregnancy disability leave.

For a full time, employee who works five (5) 8-hour days per week (forty hours per week), “four months” means 88 working and/or paid 8-hour days (693 hours of leave entitlement), based on an average of 22 working days per month for 17.3 weeks in four months times forty hours per week. Employees working a part-time schedule will have their PDL calculated on a pro-rata basis.

Notice and Leave Request Process

Foreseeable Need for Leave

If the need for leave is foreseeable because of an expected birth/adoption or planned medical treatment, you must give at least 30 days' notice. If 30 days' notice is not practicable, give notice as soon as possible. You are expected to complete and return a leave request form prior to the beginning of leave. Failure to provide appropriate notice and/or complete and return the necessary paperwork will result in the delay or denial of leave.

Unforeseeable Need for Leave

If the need for leave is unforeseeable, provide notice as soon as practicable and possible under the facts of the particular case. Normal call-in procedures apply to all absences from work including those for which leave under this policy may be requested. Complete and return the necessary leave request form as soon as possible to obtain the leave. Failure to provide appropriate notice and/or complete and return the necessary paperwork on a timely basis will result in the delay or denial of leave.

Leave Request Process

To request leave under this policy, inform your Recruiter or Staffing Manager. If the need for leave is unforeseeable and you will be absent more than three days, contact your Recruiter or Staffing Manager by telephone or in writing.

Call-In Procedures

In all instances of absence, follow the call-in procedures and standards established for giving notice of absence from work.

Paid Leave Utilization During Pregnancy Leave

You will be required to use available sick leave during PDL; however, you may opt to use any available PTO during your PDL in order to receive compensation.

If you are on PDL for eight or more consecutive calendar days, you may be eligible for partial wage replacement benefits under the California State Disability Insurance (SDI) program. You are responsible for applying for these benefits and can obtain forms from your health care provider.

Certification and Fitness for Duty Requirements

When requesting PDL, you must provide certification from a health care provider to qualify for leave. Such certification must be provided within 15 days of the request for leave unless it is not practicable under the circumstances despite your diligent efforts. Failure to provide certification may result in leave being delayed, denied, or revoked. At the discretion of the Company, you may also be required to obtain a second and third certification from another health care provider at Company expense (except for military care leave). Recertification of the continuance of a serious health condition or an injury/illness of a military service member will also be required at appropriate intervals.

Employees are required to obtain a certification from their health care provider regarding their need for pregnancy disability leave or the medical advisability of an accommodation or a transfer. The certification should include:

- 1) A description of the requested reasonable accommodation or transfer;
- 2) A statement describing the medical advisability of the reasonable accommodation or transfer because of pregnancy; and
- 3) The date on which the need for reasonable accommodation or transfer became or will become medically advisable and the estimated duration of the reasonable accommodation or transfer.

A medical certification indicating disability necessitating a leave is sufficient if it contains:

- 1) A statement that the employee needs to take pregnancy disability leave because she is disabled by pregnancy, childbirth or a related medical condition;
- 2) The date on which the employee became disabled because of pregnancy; and
- 3) The estimated duration of the leave.

Upon request, Human Resources will provide a medical certification form that can be taken to a health care professional. As a condition of returning from PDL, employees must obtain a release to return to work from a health care provider stating that they are able to resume their original job duties with or without a reasonable accommodation.

Temporary Transfer and Other Accommodations

If you are suffering from a pregnancy related disability, you are entitled to a temporary transfer to another position or other reasonable accommodation based on the pregnancy-related disability if you request the transfer or reasonable accommodation and the request is based on the medical certification of a health care provider that a transfer or reasonable accommodation is medically advisable, and the request can be reasonably accommodated by the Company. All employees who are transferred to accommodate a pregnancy-related disability have the same reinstatement and other rights described below with respect to pregnancy-related disability leaves.

The Company may also require you to transfer temporarily to an available alternative position with the same pay and benefits in order to accommodate your need for intermittent leave or a reduced work schedule.

Benefits

If the Company provides you with health benefits under a group health plan, the Company will maintain and pay for your health coverage at the same level and under the same conditions as coverage would have been provided if you had not taken pregnancy disability leave. If you do not return to work at the end of your pregnancy disability leave, the Company may recover the payment for your premiums under certain circumstances.

Return to Work

Employees who do not return to work on the originally scheduled return date or request in advance an extension of the agreed upon leave with appropriate medical documentation may be deemed to have voluntarily terminated employment with the Company. Failure to notify the Company of (1) the ability to return

Upon returning from PDL, employees will be reinstated to their same position, in most instances.

Taking PDL may impact certain of your benefits and your seniority date. For more information regarding eligibility for a leave and the impact of the leave on seniority and benefits, please contact Human Resources.

Failure to Return

If you fail to return to work or fail to make a request for an extension of leave prior to the expiration of the leave, you will be deemed to have voluntarily terminated your employment.

Alternative Employment

While on leave of absence, you may not work or be gainfully employed either for yourself or others unless express, written permission to perform such outside work has been granted by the Company. If you are on a leave of absence and are found to be working elsewhere without permission, you will be automatically terminated.

Employees can use accrued leave for the following safety or health needs:

- (1) a mental or physical illness, injury, or health condition that prevents work, including diagnosis or preventive care;
- (2) domestic abuse, sexual assault, or criminal harassment leading to health, relocation, legal, or other services needs;
- (3) caring for a family member experiencing a condition described in category (1) or (2);
- (4) grieving, funeral/memorial attendance, or financial/legal needs after a death of a family member;
- (5) due to inclement weather, power/heating/water loss, or other unexpected occurrence, the employee needs to either
 - (a) evacuate their residence, or (b) care for a family member whose school or place of care was closed; or
 - (6) in a PHE, a public official closed the workplace, or the school or place of care of the employee's child.

Employer Policies (Notice, Documentation, Incremental Use, Privacy, and Paid Leave Records)

- Written notice and posters. Employers must (1) provide notice to new employees no later than other onboarding documents/policies; and (2) display updated posters, and provide updated notices to current employees, by end of year.
- Notice for "foreseeable" leave. Employers may adopt "reasonable procedures" in writing as to how employees should provide notice if they require "foreseeable" leave, but cannot deny paid leave for noncompliance with such a policy.
- An employer can require documentation to show that accrued leave was for a qualifying reason only if leave was for four or more consecutive work days (i.e. days when an employee would have worked, not calendar days).
- Documentation is not required to take accrued leave, but can be required as soon as an employee returns to work or separates from work (whichever is sooner). No documentation can be required for PHE leave.
- To document leave for an employee's (or an employee's family member's) health-related need, an employee may provide: (1) a document from a health or social services provider if services were received and a document can be obtained in reasonable time and without added expense; otherwise (2) the employee's own writing.
- Documentation as to domestic abuse, sexual assault, or criminal harassment can be a document or writing under (1) above (e.g. legal or shelter services provider) or (2) above, or legal document (restraining order, police report, etc.).
- If an employer reasonably deems an employee's documentation deficient, the employer must: (A) notify the employee within seven days of either receiving the documentation or the employee's return to work or separation (whichever is sooner), and (B) give the employee at least seven days to cure the deficiency.
- Incremental Use. Depending on employer policy, employees can use leave in either hourly or six-minute increments.

- Employee Privacy. Employers cannot require employees to disclose "details" about an employee's (or their family's) HFWA-related health or safety information; such information must be treated as a confidential medical record.
- Records must be retained and provided upon request. Employers must provide documentation of the current amount of paid leave employees have (1) available for use, and (2) already used during the current benefit year, including any supplemental PHE leave. Information may be requested once per month or when the need for HFWA leave arises.

Retaliation or Interference with HFWA Rights

- Paid leave cannot be counted as an "absence" that may result in firing or another kind of adverse action.
- An employee can't be required to find a "replacement worker" or job coverage when taking paid leave.
- An employer cannot fire, threaten, or otherwise retaliate against, or interfere with use of leave by, an employee who: (1) requests or takes HFWA leave; (2) informs or assists another person in exercising HFWA rights; (3) files a HFWA complaint; or (4) cooperates/assists in investigation of a HFWA violation.
- If an employee's reasonable, good-faith HFWA complaint, request, or other activity is incorrect, an employer need not agree or grant it, but cannot act against the employee for it. Employees can face consequences for misusing leave.

PROTECTED HEALTH/SAFETY EXPRESSION & WHISTLEBLOWING ("PHEW"): Worker Rights to Express Workplace Health/Safety Concerns & Use Protective Equipment

Coverage: All Employers and Employees, Plus Certain Independent Contractors

- PHEW covers not just "employees" and "employers," but all "principals" (an employer or a business with at least 5 independent contractors) and "workers" (employees or independent contractors working for a "principal").

Worker Rights to Oppose Workplace Health/Safety Violations:

- It is unlawful to retaliate against, or interfere with, the following acts:
 - (1) raising reasonable concerns, including informally, to the principal, other workers, the government, or the public, about workplace violations of government health or safety rules, or a significant workplace health or safety threat;
 - (2) opposing or testifying, assisting, or participating in an investigation or proceeding about retaliation for, or interference with, the above-listed conduct.
- A principal need not address a worker's PHEW-related concern, but it still cannot fire or take other action against the worker for raising such a concern, as long as the concern was reasonable and in good-faith.

Workers' Rights to Use Their Own Personal Protective Equipment ("PPE"):

- A worker must be allowed to voluntarily wear their own PPE (mask, faceguard, gloves, etc.) if the PPE (1) provides more protection than equipment provided at the workplace, (2) is recommended by a government health agency (federal, state, or local), and (3) does not make the worker unable to do the job.

COMPLAINT RIGHTS (under both HFWA & PHEW)

- Report violations to the Division as complaints or anonymous tips, or file in court after exhausting pre-lawsuit remedies.

This Poster summarizes two Colorado workplace public health laws: C.R.S. § 8-13.3-401 et seq., (paid leave), and C.R.S. § 8-14.4-101 et seq., (health and safety whistleblowing) including amendments current as of the date of this poster. It does not cover other health or safety laws, rules, and orders, including under the federal Occupational Safety and Health Act (OSHA), from the Colorado Department of Public Health and Environment (CDPHE), or from local public health agencies. Contact those agencies for such health and safety information.

*In a PHE, employees gain additional hours of leave for inability to work, testing, quarantining, caring for family in such situations, and related needs. No PHE is now in effect; this poster will be updated if one is declared.

Notice

If the need for leave is foreseeable, you must give at least 30 days' notice. If 30 days' notice is not possible, give notice as soon as practicable (within one or two business days of learning of your need for leave).

Failure to provide appropriate notice may result in the delay or denial of leave.

Your health insurance coverage will be maintained by the Company during leave on the same basis as if you were still working. You must continue to make timely payments of your share of the premiums for such coverage. Failure to pay premiums within 30 days of when they are due may result in a lapse of coverage. Under most circumstances, if you do not return to work at the end of leave, the Company may require reimbursement for the health insurance premiums paid during the leave.

Reinstatement

Upon returning to work at the end of leave, you will generally be placed in your original job or an equivalent job with equivalent pay and benefits. You will not lose any benefits that accrued before leave was taken.

fifth hour of their work shift. Employees working three or more hours longer than their scheduled shift are entitled to at least one additional unpaid thirty-minute meal period prior to or during the overtime period. Employees can only be required to remain on the premises or work site during their meal period if they are completely free from work duties. If an employee is free from all duties during their entire meal period, it is not considered hours worked and is not a paid meal period.

Meal periods – paid meal periods. Employees must be paid for meal periods if they are:

- Required to remain on duty;
- Required to remain on-call on the premises or at the work site, even if they are not called back to duty; or
- Called back to work, interrupting the meal period.

If work is performed during a meal period, it is considered hours worked when calculating paid sick time off and overtime. Additional requirements for clinical employees are described below.

Rest periods. Overtime-eligible employees are entitled to a paid rest period of at least ten minutes for every four hours of working time. Rest periods are to be scheduled as near as possible to the midpoint of the work period.

No employee can be required to work more than three hours without a rest period. Where the nature of work allows employees to take intermittent rest periods equal to ten minutes for each four hours worked, scheduled rest periods are not required. Additional requirements for clinical employees are described below.

Meal periods and rest periods for clinical employees. Consistent with RCW 49.12.480, in addition to providing employees with meal and rest periods as required by law, employees in certain health care job classes are entitled to uninterrupted scheduled rest periods during each work period if they are:

- A registered nurse, nursing assistant certified (hospital assistant/patient care technician), surgical technologist, diagnostic radiologic technologist, cardiovascular invasive specialist, or respiratory care practitioner; and
- FLSA nonexempt or covered by a collective bargaining agreement.

Meal and rest periods will not be interrupted except under the following circumstances:

- An unforeseeable emergency circumstance as defined in RCW 49.28.130; or
- A clinical circumstance, as determined by the employer or employee, that may lead to a significant adverse effect on the patient's condition:

- o Without the knowledge, specific skill, or ability of the employee on break; or
- o Due to an unforeseen or unavoidable event relating to patient care delivery requiring immediate action that could not be planned for by the employer.

If a rest period is interrupted before 10 minutes, another uninterrupted 10-minute rest period will be provided at the earliest reasonable time to ensure a covered employee receives at least a 10-minute rest. All covered employees should notify Advantage Medical Professionals of any potential for missed or interrupted rest periods and must document the lack of any rest period.

Overtime

No clinical employee working at a healthcare facility may be required to work overtime. Attempts to compel or force employees to work overtime are contrary to Company policy, and any such requirement contained in a contract, agreement, or understanding is void.

The acceptance by any employee of overtime is strictly voluntary, and the refusal of an employee to accept such overtime work is not grounds for discrimination, dismissal, discharge, or any other penalty, threat of reports for discipline, or employment decision adverse to the employee.

This section does not apply to overtime work that occurs:

- Because of any unforeseeable emergent circumstance;
- Because of prescheduled on-call time, subject to the following:
 - o Mandatory prescheduled on-call time may not be used in lieu of scheduling employees to work regularly scheduled shifts when a staffing plan indicates the need for a scheduled shift; and
 - o Mandatory prescheduled on-call time may not be used to address regular changes in patient census or acuity or expected increases in the number of employees not reporting for predetermined scheduled shifts;
- When the employer documents that the employer has used reasonable efforts to obtain staffing. An employer has not used reasonable efforts if overtime work is used to fill vacancies resulting from chronic staff shortages; or
- When an employee is required to work overtime to complete a patient care procedure already in progress where the absence of the employee could have an adverse effect on the patient.

An employee accepting overtime who works more than twelve consecutive hours shall be provided the option to have at least eight consecutive hours of uninterrupted time off from work following the time worked.

Usage

Eligible employees may generally take up to 12 weeks of PFML per year. If you have more than one qualifying event in the same year, you may be eligible to take up to 16 weeks of PFML. Combined leave cannot exceed 16 total weeks unless there is a serious, incapacitating health issue related to pregnancy, which adds two more weeks (18 weeks total).

Bonding leave must be taken during the first 12 months after the child's birth or placement.

Bereavement leave must be used within seven calendar days of the child's death.

During the first six weeks after the birth of a child, any PFML used based on incapacity due to pregnancy or for prenatal care will count as paid medical leave by default, unless you choose to use paid family leave during that period.

PFML may be used intermittently rather than all at once.

You will not be required to use other leave before using PFML.

Requesting Leave

If the need for leave is foreseeable, provide 30 days' written notice of your intent to take leave. Notice must contain at least the anticipated timing and duration of leave. If unforeseeable, provide written notice as soon as practical.

Failure to provide proper notice may result in the denial of leave for a period of time equal to the number of days that notice was insufficient.

Questions and Applying for Benefits

If you have questions regarding this policy, contact the Human Resources Department. If you are eligible for PFML benefits, you may obtain detailed information about the program and apply for benefits through the Washington Employment Security Department (ESD) website at <https://paidleave.wa.gov/>.

Health Insurance

Your health insurance will continue while you are on leave. If you contribute to the cost of your health insurance, you must continue to pay your portion of the premium cost during your leave.

Interaction with Other Laws

PFML is in addition to any leave for sickness or temporary disability because of pregnancy or childbirth.

The use of FMLA does not reduce your allowed PFML benefit, so it is possible to use both types of leave. PFML and FMLA will run concurrently unless otherwise required by law.

Job Restoration

Unless you have been identified as a key employee (as defined under the FMLA) prior to taking PFML, upon return from leave you will be restored to your previous or an equivalent job, provided you worked for the Company for at least 12 months and worked at least 1,250 hours in the 12 months before taking leave.

Retaliation

The Company will not retaliate against employees who request or take leave under the Washington PFML program.

Tacoma Paid Sick Leave

All employees who work in Tacoma, Washington, qualify for paid sick leave, including part-time, seasonal, & temporary staff; overtime-exempt staff that work 80+ hours per year in Tacoma are also covered.

Employees earn 1 hour of paid sick leave time for every 40 hours worked. Employees are not entitled to accrue paid sick leave for hours paid while not working (such as vacation, paid holidays, or while using paid sick leave).

Employees can begin using their accumulated leave 90 calendar days after their hire date.

At the end of the year, employees can carry over at least 40 hours of any remaining paid sick leave. If an employee carries over unused paid sick leave to the following year, accrual of paid sick leave in the subsequent year would be in addition to the hours accrued in the previous year and carried over.

Advantage Medical Professionals will require the employee to forfeit the paid sick leave for paid sick leave balances in excess of 40 hours at the end of a year.

The accrual year is the 12-month period beginning on the date of hire.

Employee can use all of their leave for all of the reasons outlined by the Ordinance:

- Medical or mental health condition, injury, or preventative care;
- When an employee's place of business has been closed by order of a public official for any health-related reason or to care for a child whose school has been closed by order of a public official;
- To seek law enforcement or legal help for domestic violence or sexual assault;
- To seek safety from domestic violence, sexual assault, or stalking; and

- For needs related to the medical health, mental health, safety, or bereavement of a family member (child, grandchild, spouse, domestic partner, parent, grandparent, or sibling).

The Company maintains records specified by the Ordinance for three years (employee name, hire date, paid sick leave accrued, paid sick leave used, etc.).

Advantage Medical Professionals requires employees to use paid sick leave in increments of 1 hour.

Employees must be paid their “normal hourly compensation” for each hour of paid sick leave used. “Normal hourly compensation” is the hourly rate that an employee would have earned for the time during which the employee used paid sick leave. Normal hourly compensation does not include stipends, holiday pay, or other premium rates. For employees who use paid sick leave for hours that would have been overtime hours if worked, Advantage Medical Professionals is not required to apply overtime standards to an employee’s normal hourly compensation.

The Company must pay paid sick leave to an employee no later than the payday for the pay period in which the paid sick leave was used by the employee. If the absence requires verification, such payment must be made no later than the payday for the pay period during which verification was provided to the employer.

Employees must provide reasonable notice of an absence from work for the use of paid sick leave to care for themselves or a family member, or because the employee’s child’s school or place of care is closed by order of a public official for any health-related reason. Such notice must not interfere with an employee’s lawful use of paid sick leave. Any information provided will be kept confidential.

If an employee’s absence is foreseeable, the employee must provide notice to Advantage Medical Professionals at least 10 days, or as early as practicable, before the first day paid sick leave is used. If possible, notification should include the expected duration of the absence.

If an employee’s absence is unforeseeable, the employee must contact Advantage Medical Professionals as soon as possible before the required start of their shift. As a best practice, and if circumstances allow, employees should provide notice as soon as the employee learns of the need for paid sick leave. In the event it is not practicable to provide notice of an unforeseeable absence, a person on the employee’s behalf may provide such notice. If possible, this notification should include the expected duration of the absence.

An employee must give advance oral or written notice to Advantage Medical Professionals as soon as possible for the foreseeable use of paid sick leave to address issues related to the employee or the employee's family member being a victim of domestic violence, sexual assault, or stalking. If an employee is unable to give advance notice because of an emergent or unforeseen circumstance related to the employee or the employee's family member being a victim of domestic violence, sexual assault, or stalking, the employee or their designee must give oral or written notice to Advantage Medical Professionals no later than the end of the first day that the employee takes such leave.

If an employee has used paid sick leave for an authorized purpose for more than three (3) consecutive days during which the employee is required to work, the employee must provide verification that establishes or confirms that the use of paid sick leave is for an authorized purpose.

For care of the employee or the employee's family member, acceptable verification may include:

- A written or oral statement from the employee indicating that the use of paid sick leave is necessary to care for the employee or their family member for an authorized purpose;
- A doctor's note or a signed statement by a healthcare provider indicating that the use of paid sick leave is for care of the employee or their family member for an authorized purpose; or
- Other documentation demonstrating that the employee's use of paid sick leave is for care of the employee or their family member for an authorized purpose.

Verification must be provided to Advantage Medical Professionals within 10 calendar days of the first day an employee used paid sick leave to care for themselves or a family member.

When an employee or the employee's family member has been a victim of domestic violence, sexual assault, or stalking, the employee's choice of any one or more of the following documents satisfies this verification requirement:

- A written statement that the employee or an employee's member is a victim of domestic violence, sexual assault, or stalking, and that the leave was taken to address related issues;
- A police report indicating that the employee or the employee's family member was a victim of domestic violence, sexual assault, or stalking;
- Evidence from a court or prosecuting attorney showing that the employee or the employee's family member appeared, or is scheduled to appear, in court in connection with an incident of domestic violence, sexual assault, or stalking;
- A court order of protection;

- Documentation from any of the following persons from whom an employee or an employee's family member sought assistance in addressing the domestic violence situation indicating that the employee or the employee's family member is a victim:
 - o An advocate for victims of domestic violence, sexual assault, or stalking;
 - o An attorney;
 - o A member of the clergy; or
 - o A medical professional.

Verification must be provided in a timely manner. In the event that advance notice of the leave cannot be given because of an emergency or unforeseen circumstances due to domestic violence, sexual assault, or stalking, verification must be provided to the employer within a reasonable time period during or after the leave.

In the event our business, or the employee's child's school or place of care, is closed by order of a public official for any health-related reason, acceptable verification may include:

- Written notice of closure by order of a public official that the employee received regarding the employee's child's school or place of care.

Verification must be provided to Advantage Medical Professionals within 10 calendar days of the first day an employee used paid sick leave for such purpose.

For any verification required, please note:

- The employee is not required to provide any details concerning the specific nature of the health condition in order to use paid sick leave, unless otherwise required by law.
- Any information the employee provides will be kept confidential.

If an employee believes that obtaining verification for use of paid sick leave would result in an unreasonable burden or expense on the employee, the employee must contact Advantage Medical Professionals orally or in writing.

The employee must indicate that the absence is for an authorized purpose, and explain why verification would result in an unreasonable burden or expense on the employee.

Within 10 calendar days of receiving the employee's request, Advantage Medical Professionals will work with the employee to identify an alternative for the employee to meet the verification requirement in a way that does not result in an unreasonable burden or expense.

At the conclusion of each assignment, employees have the option of receiving a payout of any paid sick leave that accrued, but was not used, during the assignment. Employees who wish to exercise this option must do so in a written request to Human Resources within seven (7) days of the end of the assignment.

Accrued but unused paid sick leave under this policy will not otherwise be paid out at separation of employment. Employees who are reemployed with the Company within a year will have their accrued unused bank of time off under this policy made available to them.

If an employee is rehired within 12 months of separation, the employee will not be required to wait another 90 calendar days to use their accrued, unused paid sick leave if the employee met that requirement during the previous period of employment. If an employee did not meet the 90-day requirement for the use of paid sick leave prior to separation, the previous period of time the employee worked for the Company will count towards the 90 days for purposes of determining the employee's eligibility to use paid sick leave.

Leave under this policy may run concurrently with leave taken under other applicable policies as well as under local, state, or federal law.
